BIO

Megan joined the recruitment industry following a 10-year career leading high performing teams in the health sector. Her comprehensive operational management experience gave Megan a deep understanding of the impact of talent on organisational performance and the ability to easily see challenges through the eyes of her client. This has created a strong foundation on which she has built a successful recruitment career.

Drawing on her strong interpersonal skills and taking a measured approach, Megan is quick to understand the challenges and needs of the organisations she partners with, enabling her to present candidates that suit the role and culture of the business. She easily balances a need for urgency with a thorough and detailed process, tailoring her approach to each unique situation and delivering strong outcomes.

Megan's approachability and 'can-do' attitude make her a trusted partner to both clients and candidates in the in finance, accounting and financial planning and analysis sectors in which she specialises. Her effervescent personality allows her to build strong, lasting relationships and trust.
