BIO

Arie Zwaan is a seasoned professional with extensive expertise in supply chain and operation recruitment. Previously, he worked as a Credit Manager for 15 years, and navigated diverse sectors including FMCG, construction, and logistics. Leveraging his solid foundation, he seamlessly transitioned into the recruitment field, accumulating over a decade of experience in recruiting top talent for supply chain roles, as well as finance, and insurance. Arie's remarkable track record and in-depth knowledge of the logistics, supply chain and operations market make him a leading professional in his field.

Arie's career has allowed him to work with both small & medium-sized enterprises as well as large corporations. Over the past four years, he has focused on recruiting talent within the supply chain and logistics sector, leveraging his in-depth knowledge of the industry. Having lived in Holland for 12 years, Arie has developed a global perspective that enhances his understanding of diverse business environments.

Outside of his professional pursuits, Arie has a passion for bold red wines, with a particular fondness for regions like Hunter Valley and Margaret River.

Specialising in supply chain, operations, and logistics, Arie brings a unique perspective to his work. Having experienced both sides of the hiring process, he understands the importance of being an effective business partner and values open lines of communication to foster strong relationships with clients and candidates alike.
