“DO THE RIGHT THING WITH INTEGRITY & PASSION”

BIO

Matthew is an experienced recruitment consultant who commenced his career in 2014, accumulating end-to-end agency recruitment expertise in both London and Sydney, with his specialisation in Insurance and Financial Services. Throughout his career, Matthew has successfully collaborated with a diverse range of clients, ranging from established household-name globals to boutique and challenger brands.

Since 2019, Matthew has focused on the insurance market in Sydney, covering Broking, Underwriting, Product, and Portfolio roles, from experienced hires to executive and Head-of titles. Known for his ability to quickly establish rapport with both clients and candidates, Matthew consistently receives positive testimonials from satisfied customers. His strength lies in identifying and placing hard-to-find talent in challenging recruitment conditions across various markets.

Matthew’s recruitment ethos is characterised by a simple principle: to do the right thing, work with integrity and passion, and build trust. He holds himself accountable and dedicates his efforts to finding the right person for each opportunity.

Communication and transparency are central to Matthew’s approach, keeping people informed and connected with processes and market information.

Outside of work, he is a big fan of all things food, sports, and entertainment. Despite only being in Australia since 2019, Matthew loves to consider himself a bogan, and loves a good meat pie.
